Readers

During the school holidays students won't be sent home with a take home reader. Please ensure you return all readers to the school tomorrow morning.

Instead of readers, we encourage you to choose books from your home library or community library to read with your child and enjoy. Exposing your child/ren to a wide variety of texts including stories, comics, factual texts, recipes etc. will help foster their love of reading. Discussing the storyline and characters, as well as your child's thoughts and feelings about the texts they are reading, will also assist with their comprehension.

Writing

For the past year, we have adopted a new approach to teaching writing that involves using rich modeled texts and unpacking the language the author has used. Students are involved in understanding and transforming the language, structure and grammar of a mentor sentence, before imitating this sentence using their own ideas and words.

We have seen amazing work produced across the school using this approach.

This term the year 4 students completed their writing unit on Dreamtime Stories and created beautifully crafted sentences for their own stories.

A New Friend

Long, long ago, in the dreamtime, there lived a small platypus called Luna. She wasn't just small, she was tiny! Luna was the smallest of all the other animals. Her mini webbed feet only took her millimetres at once. She was as small as a grain of rice.

Luna lived in a creek filled with cool, running water. The leaves on the trees danced and cast beautiful flickering shadows on the mossy rocks at the bottom of the creek. The sun shone through the gaps of the River White Gums and reflected off the water, giving it a nice, homey feeling.

Despite all these satisfying things in the creek, Luna wasn't having a good life - she had no friends. "Hey! Luna, why won't you tell us why you're so small?" Salty the crocodile asked. All his friends sniggered. Blocky the black bream peered out from behind him. "Ooh, you are a teeny weeny platypus, aren't you?"

Luna felt a burning hot feeling grow inside her. It was fierce and angry, ready to jump out any moment. She scowled and turned away, fuming with anger and trying to ignore him. Salty had been bullying her for years, and yet Luna still couldn't calm the furious volcano inside her.

Luna felt a sudden desire to flee, far away, miles away from Salty and his cunning friends. She needed to get on with her life, a different way. Luna needed a change, and she wasn't scared of it. She looked around. This was her chance, the time to reverse her life. If Luna wanted a good life, she would fight for it and nothing would stop her. Swerving around, she twisted and dodged rocks, twirling gracefully and swiftly moving through the water. Slicing into the ocean, she realised she was being pursued. Luna flipped backwards, missing Salty's massive teeth by centimetres. Weaving and twisting, she curved around Salty's gang. Suddenly, Luna bumped into something soft. "ARHH!" she cried loudly. "It's okay." a comforting, soft voice said on her right. "I'm on your side." Noting Luna's confusion, she added "I'm Flip. A Fur seal. I'll explain everything when we get to safety.

Soon, Flip and Luna entered a cave. Mossy boulders were propped up against the wall. A flickering patch of sunlight danced around the bottom of the stony wall. Flip leapt out of the water, whipped her tail around and landed on a rock with the most possible ease. Luna watched in awe, then, still reeling from the sudden shock, whispered, "W-w...wow..." Flip grinned shyly. "Friends?"

Together they swam, explored, and learnt new tricks. Flipping and twirling in the flickering moonlight that casted beautiful shadows on the mossy rock at the bottom of the ocean was the best experience ever. Especially with friends...

How the Outback Became Dry

Long ago back in the Dreamtime there was a chatty kookaburra called David. He was not just chatty, he was the most talkative animal in the whole Australian outback! Everywhere he went, his continuous talking could be heard. David was as loquacious as a radio that could be turned on for centuries! David was a great animal to be with but he barely had any friends because he always talked over everybody. When he started talking he just couldn't stop no matter how hard he tried!

It was a hot day. Suddenly, black smoke slowly drifted out of a little green bush. Soon, Dash the dingo smelt fire. "There's a fire!" Dash shouted. The animals all went to tell David. "David-" started Maddy the magpie "Hi Maddy! I'm going to explore the whole outback on the weekends!" interrupted David "It's going to be great!" The fire was quickly spreading already. "David! A bush is on fire!" yelled Kipper the kangaroo. This time, David heard him. All the animals went to the fire immediately. The blazing fire was spreading more and more every moment.

"Quick! Put out the fire!" Pal the platypus shouted. "Use the water from the river!" Dash, Maddy, David, Kipper and Pal all rushed to the only big river in the outback to get water. Soon, nearly all the water in the huge river was gone and the fire was finally put out. After a while, the rest of the water also dried up. This is how the outback became dry.

Mathematics

Over the course of this first term, classes across the school have had a focus on the area of Number and Place Value in their mathematics lessons.

Our Prep students have been looking at the concept of 'Trusting the Count', whilst the rest of the school has been focusing on 'Place Value'. These two concepts are considered 'Big Ideas' in mathematics and are fundamental for students to learn in order to be effective and efficient mathematicians. So what do these concepts involve?

Trust the count- Having a strong sense of numbers 0–10 is a prerequisite for developing place value understanding so this is what our prep students have been working on, and will continue to develop, over the course of the year. Trust the count is the ability to understand numbers 1 to 10, and manipulate and make them in many ways, not just count them.

We want students to make mental models of these numbers by being able to break them up into their parts. For example, understanding that 5 can be made from 2 and 3, 4 and 1, or 2 and 2 and 1, and that it is one more than four, but one less than 6 is all vital information for students to know. The way we teach this to students is through a variety of hands-on activities and games, using materials and visuals, to assist students to develop this knowledge. It is vital our students do attain 'Trust the count', as if they don't they will struggle with the next big idea 'Place Value'.

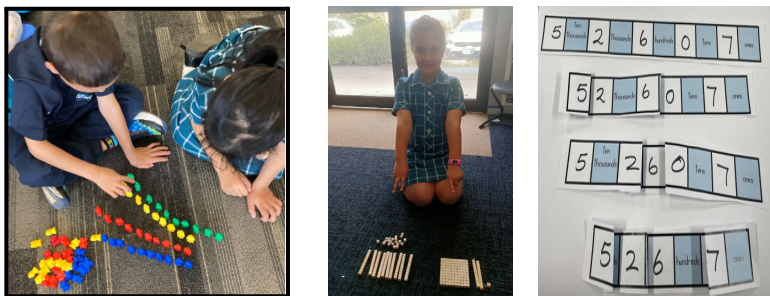

Prep students show different ways to make 5.

Place Value- The idea 'ten of these is one of those' is the building block of our numeration system. It is the key pattern that underpins our place value understanding.

Younger students can count and read 2 and 3 digit numbers long before they actually understand that the placement of the digits in that number impacts its value.

When we are teaching place value across our school, we are engaging students in activities that involve them understanding the 'ten of these is one of those' as this idea underpins fluency in arithmetic calculations and supports ongoing learning with larger numbers and decimals.

Place Value activities from across the school; Year 1's building to 10, Year 3's showing 2 ways to make 121, Year 5's using number expanders

SDSSA DISTRICT TENNIS TOURNAMENT

On Tuesday 4th April, Vela (6V) and Jada (5S) headed off to Tally Ho Tennis club to compete against other students in our district as part of the SDSSA Tennis tournament. It was a great afternoon of tennis where they competed against 5 other students in their pool.

Vela played well, winning 2, losing 2 and then a draw. It was really fun and it was great to see and play against some of my friends.

Jada played against some tough competition, with some close matches unfortunately she didn't win a game, but was proud of her efforts.

WHOLE SCHOOL CROSS COUNTRY

On Friday 28th April, we will be holding our Whole School Cross Country.

The year 3-6 students will need permission to be able to run outside of the school grounds.

The Preps, Year 1 and Year 2's have been practicing and this week some grades have jogged the track so they know where they need to run. If you are able to help out on the day between 9:00-11:00 am and be at a marshalling point please let me know via Sentral.

The students in year 4-6 who come in 1st - 8th will then have an opportunity to race at the District Cross Country on the 12th May at Jells Park.

Thank you to all the parents for your help and support of the PE program this term, looking forward to another busy term of sport in Term 2.

JMSS

When we arrived at the JMSS building, we signed in to the register and waited until we got started. We climbed the stairs and then we went into the room.

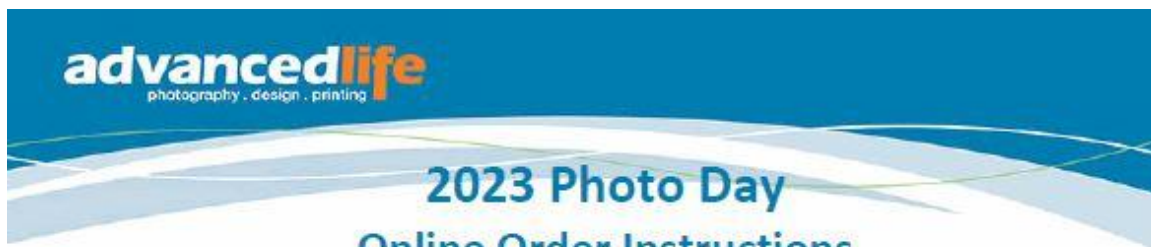

In the room, we wrote down some notes about what was happening on the big screen. A few minutes after that, we had a discussion about what to do for our project. Everyone received a sheet of paper that had all the information we needed. We came up with a few ideas for what we wanted to do our project on. Our final decision was “testing how different temperatures and environments impact mould growth on bread.” With help from the Big Scientists, we wrote a draft lab report for our experiment. They taught us about the features of a lab report such as Aim, Hypothesis, Materials, Method, Results, Discussion and a Conclusion. Next term, we are going to conduct the experiment which will go for a week.

Recycle Your Bread bags!!

Send in your empty bread bags and place them in our Wonder Pink collection box. The more we collect, the more points we earn to redeem new sports equipment! Our Pink box is up in the school office.

RECYCLE,
EARN
& PLAY

Our school* is taking part in the Wonder Recycling Rewards campaign this term.

Help us collect bread bags so we can earn points to redeem on new RHSports equipment.

It's simple! All you need to do is keep your empty bread bags and send them to school* with your kids! We will then place them in Wonder's pink collection box and post them off to be recycled. The more we collect the more points our school* earns!

Collections close 7th July.

Tip for collecting:
Use one empty bread bag to collect a bunch of other bags.

Did you know?
Last year, schools collected over 10 tonnes of soft plastic, that's the weight of an elephant!

LET'S GET COLLECTING!

*Includes early learning centres and pre-schools.

Tag @wonder.australia #wonderrecyclingrewards to share all your recycling champion stories!
