ANZAC DAY

We hope that families took a moment yesterday to remember what the day is about and pay homage to our history and people.

CURRICULUM DAY

Today teachers were involved in another professional learning day exploring rich learning tasks (RLT) in mathematics with maths guru James Russo and Jane Hubbard. On the day we also explored how to use observations during these RLT to assess students' mathematical capabilities. We then explored ways to extend beyond mathematical competencies to include learning dispositions.

THINK U KNOW?

We strongly encourage all Year 3-6 parents to attend the following information session...

This session covers issues around cyber safety, social media apps, reporting issues and preparing your child for the online world.

The online issues that we deal with at school, begin at home on a child's mobile phone. If your child has a mobile device or you are about to give your child a phone, then this session is a must.

Please complete the following RSVP link -

SUSTAINABILITY

Our Sustainability Club began this week. Two students per class have been selected to be the official Sustainability representatives. These students helped cut the Rosemary in our garden this week to supply sprigs for each child to take home in honour of and to remember ANZAC day. Thank you to Emma Thomas and Leanne Pollock for kickstarting our program.

Parents Association News

Volunteers!

The PA would love your help with the following tasks on 9th and 10th May: initial stall set-up, 'customer service' skills, stock tidy and replenishment, plus cashiers.

The proposed timetable shows which year groups will be going to the pop-up stall with their teacher. You may choose to select (or avoid!) a similar time slot to see your child(ren) and their classmates. Note that the schedule may change on the day so we cannot guarantee you will see your child's class.

To volunteer, please refer to the table below and sign up here for a similar time slot if you wish.

REMEMBER: You must have a Working with Children's Check that the school office will need to see by the time you volunteer. It's FREE to apply: <https://service.vic.gov.au/services/working-with-children>
